WHERE THE NOTICES ARE

- LICENSE and NOTICE in the application folder; the CycloneDX inventory with every component's hash in sbom\.
- The copyright and confidentiality header at the top of every source file.
- The © line in the status bar of every page, and in the footer of every Project Report — which attributes the tool, while the report's content belongs to the issuing project.
- The evaluation acknowledgment on the beta download page, accepted before the download is offered.

WHAT IS STILL IN PREPARATION

A full end-user licence agreement and a beta evaluation licence are in preparation. Until they are issued, the LICENSE below and any written agreement with Trinity Nuclear Management Group, Inc. govern. Questions: trinitynuclear.ai.

NO WARRANTY UNLESS AGREED. Except as expressly set out in your written agreement with Trinity, the Software is provided "as is" for evaluation, and Trinity disclaims all warranties, express or implied. Nothing in the Software moves, alters or executes a change to a schedule or a baseline; it reads, measures and reports, and the person using it remains responsible for every decision taken on what it reports.

THIRD-PARTY COMPONENTS. The Software includes open-source components under their own licences, listed in NOTICE and in sbom\ . Those licences govern those components; they do not extend to Trinity's own code.

Language models (phi4, gpt-oss, Llama, Mistral) – each under the licence stated in Settings → Model, pulled by a person through Ollama; Sentinel downloads nothing.

GPL-3.0 components are distributed as separate, unmodified files and invoked as a separate process or dynamically loaded library; Trinity's code is not derived from them and is not distributed under the GPL. A site that redistributes the voice add-on redistributes those components under GPL-3.0 and must keep their licence text and offer their source.
